2. Juni Valideh Diari built by Ahmet III (1703-1730) in honor of his mother Jülsüm Nematullah Sultana. Jun. in 1710. This lady's life is interesting. Daughter of a Greek village priest from the Islands.

rebelled passionately loved by Mehmet II (1649-87) After her deposition she was kept as prisoner in the Serail, during reign of Suleiman II & Ahmet II. liberated in 1695 when her son took the throne (Mustafa 1695-1703). then for 20 years she was fortunate with her second son Ahmet.
Great influence politically.

3 Tchivli D'ami Tile mosque built by Kodja Kassim in 1640 for Sultana Iyössem Mackpeiker favorite wife of Ahmet I. (1603-17) One of the most famous women in T. history.
Probably of Greek origin. Name in Serail Mackpeiker - moon face.
Also Iyössem - leader of the Greek, from fact that she was the first of a group of slaves presented to the young Sultan. During his reign, she was very powerful & influenced affairs during reigns of her sons (Murad IV, 1623-40) & Ibrahim (1640-1648) When her grandson Mehmet IV (1649-89) came to the throne, she continued to live at the Serail. Mehmet's mother was jealous & had her strangled at the age of 80. She began to build Jeni Valdeh Djam at Enni Enu in 1615. It was finally finished in 1665 by her niece, mother of Mehmet IV a Russian called Turhan. Turkan buried in that mosque. When Kijosren started building Jeni Djam in Enni Enu lots of Jews, there from 1530, driven out. She made them leave & settle in Hassoi

Havelock Ellis: My Confessions vol 2 p 112

"Under all its forms, life, to be honest anything is a discipline. What may be said for marriage is, not that it avoids tension, or escapes being a discipline, but that at its best, its rewards are great."

Elizabeth Drew: The Enjoyment of Literature . p. 224-225.

Thus, tho' we live today in an apostrophe & disillusioned age, the sympathetic reader of literature, tho' he can point to violators of the law, which enshrine the rules of his code, has nevertheless a standard of values which he feels in his bones to be unchangeable & unchallenged. In the midst of the crashing of needs, the collapse of economic social & moral precedent; in the midst of the greed of commerce, the hypocrisies of politics, the vanity of dictators; in the face of the whole chaos & confusion, the muddlesness, he can declare a clear & simple faith.

He can say that he believes in the eternal human values which are incarnated in the figures of Prometheus or Hamlet, or Esmond or Imogen, or Jane Eyre or Constance Povey.
He can say that he believes in the grandeur of Paradise Lost the name of father de Rosebud, in the blame of Tyger Tyger burning bright; in the austerity of Rosmersholm & the perfect harmony of the Ode on a Grecian Vase.
