

Attention of the President:

Grade A Specimen of Robert Academy English from a Test in Elementary Psychology

Examples were given and the examinees were supposed to say whether they were instinct, reflex, conditioned response, habit, etc.

"D. If it is a man on whose nose a fly lights on and if the man himself flies off his nose, it is an instinct. If, as I was sitting near my father, a fly came and troubled him I would fly off the fly. This is a habit of little use."

"A. If the mustache is pulled by the man who owns it, it is a habit; if a man gets angry, becomes furious, and pulls his friends mustache, what he does is a motor response."
