Dear Natalie,

I was glad to find your letter of 14 October when I came back to Istanbul. It is a pleasure for me to talk on the Agora in Seleukeia at the University in Thode Island. I can also give the same lecture at the Yale University. Thank you very much for your trouble for these arrangements.

I think it will be more convenient for me to read the English translation of my lecture which will save time. If you could have it translated and send me a copy to Princeton I will have the chance of reading it there too. I have my lecture already in German. I couldn't find somebody who can translate it from German into English here. I will be sending to you my paper in German soon so that there should be enough time to be translated.

I will be grateful if I could get it as soon as I arrive Princeton.

You may certainly get in touch with Homer Thompson about the date of my lecture in Princeton.

All my love
